

Discerning Among Particular Options

Call to mind one or more “major” decision you have made. Perhaps your decision where to go to college or to law school. Or a decision about a summer job (or permanent one if you have spent time out of law school). Or some other decision that affected the direction you were taking.

How did you make that decision?

Where was God in the process?

What was the role of your parents? Mentors? Friends? Others?

What gave you confidence that you were making the right decision?

What, if anything, confirmed the decision you made?

How might Ignatius’ tools for decisionmaking help you?
